Summary

Hey! I'm Ahmed, a CS student who loves building cool stuff on the web. I started with HTML and CSS to make websites look good and got into JavaScript to make them do interesting things. Now, I'm all about React JS, creating efficient and modular user interfaces. Studying CS, I'm pumped to use coding to solve real-world problems. Outside of coding, I enjoy collaborating with others, solving puzzles, and exploring the endless possibilities in the tech world. Let's connect and make something awesome together! #
